SWEPT FROM OCEAN

Was the Russian Fleet in Korean Straits Last Sunday.

Toga Set His Trap for the Russians and When They Were in He Crushed Them.

Latest advices confirm the magnitude of the disaster suffered by the Russian fleet last Sunday in Korean Straits, and point to the fact that the Russian's hopes, so far as this war is concerned, now lie in whatever may be accomplished by the oft-beaten army in Manchuria. An official report received from Tokyo by the Japanese legation at Washington Monday evening, says that the Russian losses definitely known include two battle ships, a coast defense ship, five cruisers, two special ships, and three destroyers sunk, and two battle ships, two coast defense ships, one destroyer and one special service ship captured, while over 3,000 prisoners were taken, including Rear Admiral Nebogatoff.

There is nothing to clearly indicate the extent of the Japanese losses, and it is suggested from one source that the Tokio government is waiting to hear from Admiral Rojestvensky by way of Vladivostok before announcing to what extent its fleet has suffered. The news of the disaster has caused deep depression in official Russia, though it is not yet known generally among the Russian people.

Rojestvensky's defeat has given rest to renewed talk of peace. It is pointed out that Russia in this crisis will turn to France through its foreign minister, M. Delcasse, while from Washington comes information that President Roosevelt, in accordance with his promise, announced a long time ago, is taking steps to do all in his power to bring about peace negotiations.

Nothing has been heard from Vice Admiral Rojestvensky. In Tokio there is some belief that he has perished, while another source says he was rescued by a torpedo boat, but that he is wounded.

TOGO'S FIGHTING PLANS.

Tokio, May 31.—Beyond the results little is known here of Admiral Togo's stunning victory over Admiral Rojestvensky. Rojestvensky reached Quelpart Island, Korea, early Saturday and headed for the Tsu Islands. The exact number of vessels in his fleet is not clear, but he had his main fighting vessels with a number of light cruisers and transports. The disposition of the Japanese fleet appears to have been an ideal one.

Admiral Togo had waited for weeks in the vicinity of the Tsu Island, refusing to be lured away and to forfeit his advantage. The inner line was held by Admiral Togo with the battleship and Vice Admiral Kamimura with the cruisers. Rear Admiral Kataoka with the light squadron first attacked Rojestvensky. The order and circumstance of the attack are not clear. According to one report Kamimura went outside the straits and foiled Rojestvensky, preventing his retreat. When Rojestvensky encountered Admiral Togo there appears to have been a running fight to the northeast Saturday afternoon. There was a series of desperate and successful torpedo attacks Saturday night and a resumption of the battle on Sunday, Togo pressing the Russian fleet toward the southeastern coast of Korea.

The people were confident, but official confirmation of their belief and hoped thrilled the people as nothing has since hostilities began. The long voyage of Admiral Rojestvensky, the equality on paper of the strength of the fleets, the irritation caused by reported violations of neutrality, the apparent certainty that a formidable section of the Russian fleet would reach Vladivostok, the vital bearing of the contest on the war and possibly the future of the empire created an intense strain which Admiral Togo's victory ends instantly.

In Memoriam.

Miss Pearl Igleheart, daughter and step daughter of Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Tichenor, died May the 8th, 1905. She was born December 31st, 1881. She professed religion and joined the church when quite young where she lived a devoted member until death. She bore her suffering with great fortitude that characterizes a true Christian life. To know her was to love her, her friends were many as was shown by the great multitude that attended the funeral which was conducted by pastor Rev. B. F. Jenkins the following day.

Six of her intimate young lady friends acted as palbearers which was a beautiful tribute of respect to her memory. Pearl will be greatly missed in which she was favorite, but she expressed a willingness to be absent from the body and be present with the Lord.

A FRIEND.

A. O. U. W. BANQUET.

Hundred or more Invited Guests in Addition to Membership Enjoy Delightful Evening.

Last Tuesday night at Taylor's Opera Hall, J. E. Pendleton Lodge No. 86 A. O. U. W., entertained with banquet in honor of Grand Master Workman, Sam Bedford, of Owensboro. An informal, though quite interesting program was rendered, Mr. Bedford delivering the principal address of the evening. He is indeed an able and entertaining speaker and paid a high tribute to the people of Hartford and Ohio county. He outlined in an attractive way the benefits and beauties of the A. O. U. W. Fraternity. In speaking of the protecting features of the order he said that no young blood had a right to expect a fair young dame to seriously consider him as a matrimonial aspirant unless he had made provision for her material welfare.

Mrs. Ella H. Mantor, Willman, Minn., delivered an interesting and instructive address on the Degree of Honor, an auxiliary of the order.

Menu of light refreshments, elegantly and tastefully prepared, were served during the evening.

The Hall was handsomely and artistically decorated with roses, snow white lilies, etc., and the lighting was arranged with beautiful effect.

Brief addresses were delivered during the evening by members, O. M. Shultz, Cal P. Keown, E. B. Pendleton, L. P. Foreman and R. L. Tweddell. All spent a most enjoyable evening.

CHANGES IN PARTY LAW.

Republican State Central Committee Amends Rules Governing Organization.

At a meeting of the Republican State Central Committee held at Louisville last Saturday important changes in the rules governing the party organization were made.

Practically the entire book of rules was revised, but only one rule takes effect July 1.

The principal change in addition to the emergency rules provides that all precinct committeemen shall be elected on the same day and at the same hour and the date for election is fixed for 1 o'clock p. m. the first Saturday in March of Presidential years. Provision is made for filling vacancies. A rule was also adopted that "standard" time is invariably intended. In one or two instances county conventions called for a certain hour would be called to order at "sun" time and would have finished the business and adjourned twenty-two minutes later, when the other delegates would arrive too late to participate.

The principal change made in the rules, however, are to make them more specific so there will be fewer contests. It was the desire of the committee to make the rules so simple and plain that they could not be misunderstood. The new resolution, which becomes effective immediately, reads as follows:

"When the Chairman, Secretary, Treasurer, or any other officer of, or any member of, a County Executive Committee shall become a candidate for the nomination of any county, municipal or district office to be filled at any regular or special election, he shall immediately resign his office as member of such committee, and the vacancy caused thereby shall be filled as provided for by the party rules; and on his failure to so resign from said committee (he not being allowed to vote thereon) shall thereupon declare his office as member vacant and shall fill the vacancy agreeable to the party rules."

CRUSHED SKULL

With Nails in it Dug up in Frankfort Cemetery.

Frankfort, Ky., May 29.—While engaged in digging a grave in the State cemetery for the body of Mrs. Anna Major Fairbourn, who died in Louisville on Saturday, an employee of the cemetery company turned up a skull, the frontal bones of which had been crushed in and in the left side of which two long nails had been driven. The superintendent of the cemetery has no knowledge of a body ever having been buried at the spot where the skull was found. Physicians who have examined the skull say that it is that of a young man, and has the appearance of having been in the ground for half a century.

Mass Convention at Rosine.

The delegates from all the voting places in Cromwell Magisterial district met at Rosine May the 8th and was called together by J. T. Allen, he being made chairman H. C. Crowder was made secretary. A motion was made to appoint a committee on resolutions—carried and L. L. Embry, L. P. Crowder and J. W. Wilson were appointed to report at once. The following resolutions were reported:

Resolved, That we indorse the action of the precinct conventions which met at their respective places on May 6, 1905, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Magistrate and Constable.

Second, We further congratulate the successful candidates for the said offices and heartily pledge them our support.

L. L. EMBRY,
L. P. CROWDER, } Com.
J. W. WILSON,

Which resolution was adopted.

A motion was made and carried to call for vote of precincts, and on calling the vote Cromwell, Select and Prentiss reported for Cook; Rosine and Horse Branch for Miller. A motion was made by Mr. Cook to make Miller's vote unanimous—carried. Then R. M. Young received the majority of all the delegates, and was given the nomination for Constable.

A good pointed talk from Mack Cook showed that the defeated candidates in the Republican ranks had good feelings toward the successful. Miller then gave a very short talk and assured the people that he was very thankful and if elected would be very faithful to what he thought to be right. S. T. ALLEN, Ch'm'n.
H. C. CROWDER, Sec'y.

Card of Thanks.

To every one who took enough interest in my effort to procure the premium buggy offered by The T. J. Turley Co., at the Hartford Street Fair to cast their votes for me. I desire to thank them most heartily although another secured the prize. I appreciate the efforts made by my friends.

CUSTARD PIE

Comes Near Proving Fatal to the Family Who Ate It.

The entire family of Mr. Jake Smith was made desperately ill Monday evening by eating custard pie, says the Owensboro Messenger.

The pie was made Saturday and was kept in a refrigerator until Monday.

At the evening meal Mr. Smith, his wife and their two children ate of the pie. Soon afterward all of them became very ill. A physician was sent for, who diagnosed the case and gave treatment. Mr. Smith is able to be at his work, and the children are up.

Mrs. Smith continues in a serious condition, and the physician states that she is by no means out of danger.

RESTORED TO HEALTH. THANKS TO PE-RU-NA.

Friends Were Alarmed—Advised Change of Climate.

Miss Mildred Keller, 718 13th street, N. W., Washington, D. C., writes:

"I can safely recommend Peruna for catarrh. I had it for years and it would respond to no kind of treatment, or if it did it was only temporary, and on the slightest provocation the trouble would come back."

"I was in such a state that my friends were alarmed about me, and I was advised to leave this climate. Then I tried Peruna, and to my great joy found it helped me from the first dose I took, and a few bottles cured me."

"It built up my constitution, I regained my appetite, and I feel that I am perfectly well and strong."—Mildred Keller.

We have on file many thousand testimonials like the above. We can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements Dr. Hartman is receiving.

STRANGE RACE. Of Pygmies Who Are Fearless Hunters and Have no Religion.

[London Cor. Pittsburgh Dispatch.]
Colonel Harrison, who has just returned to London after a four months' expedition to the Congo forest gives some most interesting additional facts concerning the pygmy of the country, six of whom he has brought back to Cairo.

Apart from the pygmies Colonel Harrison says there is no sign of human life in the forest. Partly from superstition and largely owing to the pygmies, he informed a Reuter's representative, the natives, avoid and will not enter it. Even the pygmies do not penetrate for more than about two days into its recesses, and the white men do not go there.

Messages were sent to the little people by means of a pygmy boy, who spoke Swahili, and who was with Colonel Harrison's party, announcing the approach of a man and explaining the object of the visit.

"When once I had gained their confidence," says the Colonel, "they were quiet friendly, and eventually six of them—four men and two women—volunteered to come with me to England. They freely conducted me to their little villages, and at night time erected leafy structures, in order which I slept. They are of an extremely low order of intelligence, and know absolutely nothing of what goes on around them. They seem to have no religious instincts and possess a idea of Supreme Being.

"Their average height is from 4 feet to 4 feet 3/4, and, curiously enough, as a rule the women are taller than the men. The women have also better physical development. The men seemed to me to be starved to death.

"The actual villages were some distant from the clearings, the tiny huts being packed and hidden away between the trees, sometimes inaccessible places. One of them consisted of some dozen little leafed arbors, seven feet in diameter, and less than four feet high at the highest point. In front of these burned a bright fire, while within each of the dwellings crouched from eight to ten of the pygmies. They are great dancers, and they will perform for hours at a stretch without fatigue.

Their movements are in perfect time and by no means are they ungraceful. About 100 form up a line and dance around a couple of native drums. These, with the shrill whistles which they employ when out hunting, appear to be their only musical instruments. On the first night in which they danced for me, 5 came out, all the women being kept in the huts but on subsequent occasions I have had as many as 100 performing.

"A striking characteristic of the people is their extraordinary silence; they will sit for hours without uttering a word. They are nomadic, and their only wealth is in spears. The number of spears determines the number of wives these people can afford.

"They are practically nude. The women's only clothing is a few leaves, while the men attire consists of a scrap of skin round the waist. Their whole personal belongings consist of a poisoned spear or two and an old clay cooking pot. The women carry their infants slung across their sides.

"The pygmies are fearless hunters and will boldly attack an elephant by rushing up to it and planting a poisoned spear in the brute. They are also very warlike little people and only a short while before my arrival in the forest they had sallied out, attacked and looted a Belgian caravan and killed 17 porters. There were no white men with the caravan and the native soldiers killed.

"They eat like animals even gnawing the bones of their prey. When an animal is caught they eat it up, skin and all and put it in the cooking pot.

"Life in the forest is dreary in the extreme. It is always twilight, the sun never penetrating through the dense foliage, and for nine months of the year it pours with rain."

Ants Built Cowsheds.

One of the most interesting studies of insect life is the relationship between ants and plant life, or aphids. These plant lice supply honeydew from the juices which they take as food from plants. The ants are very fond of this sweet substance, and care for the aphids in a manner that seems to us surprisingly intelligent. They sometimes carry them bodily to a better feeding ground and drive away certain of their enemies. It is claimed that they even build sheds of mud in the crotches of shrubs and small trees. On account of this insect relationship one may truthfully call the ants "farmers" and aphids "cows," and these protecting mud cases "cowsheds."

A Fearful Fate.

It is a fearful fate to have to endure the terrible torture of Piles. "I can truthfully say," writes Henry Colso, of Masonville, Ia., "that for Blind, Itching and Protruding Piles, Bucklen's Arnica Salve, is the best cure made." Also best for cuts, burns and injuries. 25c at Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro., druggist.

MEXICAN TIGERS.

Driven by Hunger, Enter House to Seize Their Food.

Tigers, driven from their mountain lairs, in the territory of Tepic, by the the scarcity of food, are ravaging the haciendas of the valleys. They are becoming such a general danger that the municipal authorities have offered a reward of $10 each for their skins.

For the past several months great numbers of the animals have swarmed through the marshes of the lowlands along the coasts and in the valleys of the territory of Tepic, having been driven out of the states of Sinaloa and Sonora by the floods and the extremely cold weather. The damage caused to the haciendas and the danger incurred by the animals were such that many of them offered rewards for the skins of the animals sometime ago.

The tigers have become so bold that they will enter the house on the plantations and help themselves to whatever comes in their path. Several deaths are reported in different parts of the territory. In many sections of the state it is necessary to have armed guards stationed at night to insure the safety of the other people in the settlements.

Live stock is suffering more than anything else. With the slight provisions that are necessary for the shelter of stock it leaves them in most cases without any protection from the beasts. Even the presence of numerous guards around a herd of cattle is oftentimes insufficient to keep the tigers from getting away with an animal or two from the edge of the herd.

Hunting for the animals has been greatly stimulated by the offer of the Government, and scores of hunters are scouring the country for the animals. The number of the skins that have been turned in thus far is large and it is believed that it will not be long before the animals are driven back to the mountains.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and Home of Swamp-Root, dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name. Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

PANAMA HATS.

Are Completely Gone, and a Freak Variety Will Be Worn.

[New York Herald.]

After a season of lingering struggle the Panama hat passed. One may be seen here and there, but it will mark the wearer as one either of extravagant taste or having no need to limit his expenditure; for the only varieties on sale in the high class hat stores range in price from $50 up. In the Bowery imitation Panama will be sold at about half price as compared with even a year ago.

To take the place of the Panama for the man who abhors a hard hat, whether in straw or derbies, bamboo straws, with telescope crowns, will be very popular this year—at $10 or thereabout. They are finely woven and have the advantage over the Panamas in having no stiffening to be washed out by the first shower. They are also to be had in the regular Panama shape, but the latter will not be greatly in demand.

Another soft straw hat that is expected to be popular is the Mackinaw, so called, though the hats are woven in Japan. Young men will prefer them in a rather extreme style, with crown and brim each of two and three-quarter inches.

Then there is a novelty in the way of straw coachmen's hats, in black and white. A very few of these were seen last year, but they will not be uncommon this summer in the judgment of high grade hatters. For automobilists there is a straw cap in various colors which follows the lines of the regulation cap of felt or leather.

For elderly men there is what is known as the Milan straw, a finely woven hat, resembling the Panama in shape, large, but very light.

But, as was the case last year, the hat that will be seen everywhere and that will be sold by the hundred to every one of the other designs will be the regulation hard straw, with flat crown and hard strength brim. In the extreme height of crown and narrowness of brim it is believed by hatters that the limit has been reached. It certainly has so far as appearance goes. The tendency in this direction was stretched last year, but has gone still further in the new style displayed for this season.

The rough sennit braie will be chiefly worn, though the split straws at a slightly higher price will be generally in evidence. Black bands will be most popular, but dark blue and Oxford blue band will be seen far more generally than a year ago, while the college youth will be less conspicuous in flaring colored band than he was a year ago.

For those whom the most extreme of America-made hats are too moderate there will be English straws, with towering crowns and rims so narrow as to be hardly noticeable at a distance.

COLORADO RIVER

Has Bridged Itself and Supplied
Another Natural Wonder.

"Unless we can find some means of breaking up the huge raft that stretches in a solid mass for 22 miles up and down the Colorado River, in Texas, the river will have to find an outlet to the sea by joining its tremendous force with a smaller river 24 miles away, and the American continent will be provided with another natural wonder," said Government Engineer Gillespie at the Hotel Breslin. "At present we are reluctant to admit that we have found no means of breaking up the raft. It was at first only a jam of logs that three or four men might break up in an hour. But it has grown at the rate of a mile or more each year, until now it stretches across the river from bank to bank, all the way from the mouth to Bay City, 21 miles from the sea. In some places it has become solid ground, with vegetation and trees growing upon it. Roads have been cut through over which teams cross from bank to bank as unconcerned as though a great river were not rolling swiftly underneath them, fretting at its self-imposed barrier.

This monster raft has already become an object of interest to tourists. The water in the river is backed up so much by the bridge that much of the lowlands in Matagorda county has been inundated, and the safety of Bay City is threatened. Thousands of acres of rich-producing land have become barren. The worst of it is that as this raft that covers the river grows larger the tunnel through which it has to pass is becoming smaller. Drift logs brought down by the spring freshets are driven deep into the sides of the raft and into the soft mud of the river, and form a frame for the accumulation of more mud. Thus dammed, the river is rising foot by foot and overflowing the country. It is not improbable, unless this dam can be broken, that the whole face of the country in that part of Texas will be changed within 25 years.

The river is about one quarter of a mile wide and 80 feet deep where the raft has formed. It maintains these proportions for many miles from the coast. It is subject to sharp floods when the spring rains fall, and a rise of 25 feet in 24 hours is not uncommon. As this raft has broadened and stretched further up and down the river it has thickened.

Experience has shown that dynamite is not powerful enough to break it up. The freaky Colorado has changed its course. Years ago it reached the sea through Crane Creek Valley, about 25 miles from its present mouth. It is the biggest river in Texas, being nearly 700 miles long, with Austin, the capital city of the State, and other important towns situated on its banks."

An Indisputable SAFE INVESTMENT

The material progress which our country is now, and has been making for the past decade of years, naturally brings to the surface numerous schemes of the "get-rich-quick" character that benefit only the promoters of such, at the expense of innocent investors.

In this age of genuine prosperity with every legitimate business booming, wages high, work in abundance, giving employment to all willing to earn, and products of the farm bringing best prices; there is little or no excuse for one not to join the army of money-makers.

The first and safest investment to make is to become a reader of the CINCINNATI ENQUIRER, the greatest and most reliable newspaper in the United States. With the facts, truth and information gleaned from its columns, one may become well qualified to reach out and secure his share of profit that always accrues from investments intelligently made.

The WEEKLY ENQUIRER costs but one dollar for one year's term. The SUNDAY ENQUIRER costs you two dollars for a year. The DAILY ENQUIRER (7 issues a week) you get for fourteen dollars a year.

Without the aid of a first-class newspaper, success in any enterprise becomes problematical. For ten cents you can secure a sample copy of each, DAILY, SUNDAY and WEEKLY ENQUIRER. Address,

QUEER SEA MONSTER.

Unfamiliar Ocean Giant's Hideous Aspect and Monster Size.

[Metropolitan Magazine]

Of all the big game of the deep sea that have been taken by man the cuttle fishes are the most diabolical in shape and general appearance. I have handled and measured one that was 38 feet in length, a weird, spider-like creature with two antennae-like arms 30 feet in length. Specimens of these animals have been caught 70 feet in length, the captors fighting them with an ax, cutting the arms which seized and held the boat. Off the coasts of California and Alaska there is a deep-sea ally of this animal—a big, spider-like octopus that haunts the deep banks, preying upon the fishes most esteemed by fishermen. It is found off the Farallones on rocky bottom, and at times the fishermen haul in their lines thinking that they have fouled a stone or rock, so heavy is the weight; but when the surface is reached, long, livid arms shoot above the water, seize the boat and the men are forced to fight with knives and hatchets the weird, uncanny game that has a radial spread of 30 feet, its eight sucker-lined arms being 15 feet in length and possessed of extraordinary power. A specimen taken off the Island of San Clement had a spread of about 20 feet and gave the boatman a hard battle to sever its flying arms. Nothing more diabolical can be conceived than this spider-like giant of the deep sea, living among the rocks 600 to 1,000 feet below the surface. An individual of moderate size which I kept alive displayed the greatest pugnacity.

The moment I approached, it would literally hurl itself at my arm, winding its long tentacles about it in a manner suggestive of what a large individual might do; indeed Dr. A. S. Packard, Professor of Zoology at Brown University, says: "An Indian woman at Victoria, Vancouver Island, in 1877, was seized and drowned by an octopus, probably of this species, while bathing on the shore. Smaller specimens on coral reefs sometimes seize collectors or natives and fastening them with their relentless suckered arms, tire and frighten to death the hapless victim."

Imagine a jet-black bat of fifteen or more feet across, with a long, slender tail, the fins rising and falling like wings with a motion of the perfection of grace; wings jet-black above, pure white below, flashing alternately black and white as the fishes turned and swung along, standing out against the mauve tint of the bottom with wonderful distinctness. They bore a remarkable resemblance to bats, and were the bats of the sea.

As the dinghy moved nearer I saw that rare spectacle—a huge ray turned completely over, throwing a somersault as it swung around, a picture of grace, yet never losing its position, presenting for a few seconds beautiful lines attend to perfect grace. I was fascinated by this singular performance, characteristic of these giant fishes, and might have remained inactive had not the dinghy reached a point when it was apparent they must see us. I permitted one, two, three to go slowly whirling on, then selecting one that was headed up the lagoon in the direction of the cul-de-sac, I hurled the quivering grain-pole into the black shadow just as it was about to turn. I heard the quick thud, saw the pole leap from the socket, heard the dinghy up the reef, and then the very bottom of the sea seemed to rise into the air as the great hat-like creature rose bodily from a maelstrom of spray, affording a vision of beating wings, that deluged boat and occupants; then it fell with a resounding crash, the big waves from the impact careening the dinghy from which the rope was leaping like a coiled adder.

Newest Thing in Snakes.

[Richmond (Va.) Times-Dispatch.]

A most remarkable and uncommon "flying snake" that was captured and killed at "Berry Plain," the home of Mr. John S. Dickinson, in this county, a few days ago, has attracted wide attention and excited no little interest. The curious reptile was first noticed flying about in THOMAS A. EDISON, the inventor, in mapping out the problems of the future, gives first place to the necessity of fighting the bacteria which give us our diseases. Next to the actual bacteria of disease, the mosquitoes and flies are the most dangerous enemies of man. The mosquito with its bite injects into our veins malaria, yellow fever, and other fatal troubles. The fly, with spongy feet, collects the invisible germs of disease, spreads them over our food and poisons us with typhoid, cholera and other plagues of the human race.

Dr. Pierce, the eminent physician of Buffalo, N. Y., says, "If each person will consider his system as an army of men which he controls as a general, and will see to its proper provisioning and that it has plenty of ammunition in the shape of good red blood, he will be able to overcome the enemy in these germs of disease." Every healthy man has five million red blood corpuscles to every square millimeter of blood. The best tonic for increasing the red blood corpuscles and building up healthy tissue is no doubt Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This medicine has been on the market for over a third of a century and numbers its cures by the thousand.

Many popular patent medicines or tonics are made up largely of alcohol and will shrink the corpuscles of the blood and make them weaker for resistance. What is needed is an alternative extract, like Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made of roots and herbs, without the use of alcohol, that will assist the stomach in assimilating or taking from the food such elements as are required for the blood, and an alternative that will assist the activity of the liver and cause it to throw off the poisons in the blood. When we have accomplished this we have put the system in a fortified condition so strong that it can repel the germs of disease which we find everywhere—in the street cars, the shops, the factories, the bedrooms, wherever many people congregate, or where sunlight and good air do not penetrate.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

Neglected constipation means headache, heart-burn, sour stomach, foul taste in the mouth, biliousness, pimples, and palpitation of the heart. Constipation is easily cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One for mild cases, otherwise two.

the air with several feet of its horrid snakeship dangling around, presenting the appearance, may be, of an ordinary snake attached to a strange-looking bird.

As far as is known, it never once descended to the earth and crawled on the ground after the manner of snakes, but it would occasionally alight in trees and catch birds as best suited its appetite and fancy. It was finally killed and measured and proved to be five feet long, and about one inch in diameter of body. It had perfect wings of good size, and these were covered with feathers. "Berry Plain," where the curious thing made its unceremonious advent and met its untimely end, is one of the finest plantations and homesteads in King George, and, being situated on the banks of the Rappahannock, it is conjectured by some that the "flying snake" may have come from an impenetrable marsh of the river or some neighboring creek.

But this theory is not accepted by many, for as far as can be learned nothing bearing the slightest similarity to this serpent or reptile, or whatever it is, was ever before seen or heard of anywhere in this section of the country.

REMARKABLE STORY

Of the Capture of Cockscorn Hill Fort By the Japanese.

[London Times]

We have received the following translation of an account written by a Japanese engineer officer of the breaching of the defenses of North Cockscorn Hill (Cockscorn Hill Fort): "It was thus the capture was announced by the Official Gazette of North Fort of Cockscorn Hill, which was the beginning of the series of destruction and captures of important strongholds of the Russians at Port Arthur: 'On the 27th of October, in the thirty-seventh year of Meiji, part of the walls of North Cockscorn Hill Fort was blown up by our working party, and the infantry assaulted successfully and occupied the fort securely by the 28th.' On that day at about 12:30 p. m. the working party in the right wing of the mine gallery came across an opening about 10 centimeters by 10 centimeters from which issued a strong smell of coal-tar. The discovery was made 32 meters from the entrance of the gallery leading in from the sixth parallel.

"After examination, we concluded that we had fallen in with the enemy's counter-mining tunnel. We found it necessary to locate, and if possible remove, the explosive material set for our destruction. This work was entrusted to a party of six men, volunteers from the Imperial Engineer Battalion on the spot—Sergeant Katsugi Mitani, Corporal Tamejiro Takahashi, First Class Privates Tomoichi Hori, Kijzo Furusawa, Toshio Kawabata and Second Class Private Asatomo Matsushita.

"They understood the desperate nature of the enterprise full well, and, wishing to die decently, as the gentlemen soldiers of Japan should, they dressed in their best and went—to their certain death. At 1:30 o'clock, exactly, the sound of a violent explosion rent the air, and the comrades anxiously waiting at the mouth of the gallery were assailed by pebbles, shingles and debris. Mitani, Takahashi and Furusawa were pulled out of the crater by means of the ropes which were tied to their ankles for this purpose, all severely wounded, while the rest sacrificed their lives at the altar of patriotism and duty.

"The Russians took not the slightest notice of it; perhaps they imagined that to be an impact of a Japanese shell. We again inserted a large quantity of gun-cotton under the wall and exploded it. This made a hole, but not sufficiently large for our assaulting party to enter.

"So the persistent engineers determined upon the third attempt. They shot down several of the Russians who looked wonderingly out of the rent. The third time the explosion of the gun-cotton tore a hole in the solid masonry of concrete about one meter in height and one and one-half meters wide. Through this 12 grenades were thrown in, and under the cover of the smoke and confusion a party of infantry numbering not more than half of a company filed in and occupied the part of the underground chamber; the other part still remained in the possession of the enemy. The Japanese and Russian combatants were separated only by the thin khaki-colored wall of sandbags between. We slowly and steadily advanced inch by inch, each soldier pushing in front of him a bag of sand or a paraffin tin filled with shingle. The sounds of bullets striking these paraffin tins was weird in the extreme. The Russians sought protection under the cover of steel plate partitions, striving stubbornly and yet in vain to stem the tide of the Japanese advance. The steel plates we exploded; the sandbags we simply pushed aside. Thus within 24 hours after the breach the whole of North Cockscorn Hill Fort was firmly and effectively occupied by the Japanese."

GIGANTIC FROGS

Invade Japan Every Twenty Years and are Highly Prized.

G. Wackeneuter, of Chicago, has just returned from a trip to Japan and Honolulu, and spoke of some of his experiences at the Hotel Pfister.

"I was fortunate in arriving in Japan in one of the 'frog years,' " he said: "There is a certain variety of frog which comes in the swamps and marshes of Japan every 20 years, overrunning them and keeping up a croaking that is most annoying. Their visits correspond to those of the dreaded cicade, or seventeen-year locust, about, with the scientists of America have been puzzling for years. Unlike the locusts, however, the frogs do no damage, and their coming is welcome by the Japanese on account of their value as food. Unlike the French and American, the Japs do not eat the hind legs alone, but cook up the whole body into a delicate dish which is palatable.

"The frogs grow to an enormous size, many of them attaining a weight of several pounds. Where they come from and where they disappear to is what the Japanese naturalists are now trying to learn, but I fear with small chances of success. The skins are tanned and dressed, and are fully as handsome as the snakeskins for which pocketbooks and shopping bags are made in this country. All sorts of handsome things are made of the skins and sold to tourists I purchased a number of the skins.

Mr. Wackeneuter presented Clerk Washburn, of the Pfister, with a cigar case made from the frog skins, and also gave several of the skins to his friends in Milwaukee.

Torture of a Preacher.

The story of the torture of Rev. O. D. Moore, pastor of the Baptist church, or Harpersville, N. Y., will interest you. He says: I suffered agonies, because of a persistent cough, resulting from the grip. I had to sleep sitting up in bed. I tried many remedies, without relief, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which entirely cured my cough, and saved me from consumption." A great cure for diseased conditions of Throat and Lungs. At Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro., druggists; price 50c and $1.00, guaranteed. Trial Bottle free.

Is Marriage a Disease?

[Harper's Weekly.]

Sometimes it seems as though the anti-divorce enthusiasts were not as scientific in their methods as they should be. The great, abounding cause of divorce is, of course, marriage, and marriage, therefore, is the thing to investigate. First, then, is marriage, a germ disease? We have considered this question a long time, getting no further with it, but the scientific investigators will be able to tell us. And if it is a germ disease they can catch the germ, and the germ once caught, they can get cultures and compose antitoxins which will strip this common and serious complaint of most of its terrors. And, of course, once we get marriage under control we shall be in a position to regulate divorce with a precision absolutely scientific, if there is any divorcer left to regulate.

In Mad Chase.

Millions rush in mad chase after health, from one extreme of faddism to another, when, if they would eat good food, and keep their bowels regular with Dr. King's New Life Pills, their troubles would all pass away. Prompt relief and quick cure for liver and stomach trouble. 25c at Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro's., drug store; guaranteed.

Prepared.

"What do you mean by going to bed with your clothes on?" "Why, I dreamed I went to a reception the other night, and if it happened again I want to be promptly dressed."

SINCE our brief suggestion that the contract for building the three iron bridges recently ordered by the Fiscal Court be let at public outcry to the lowest responsible bidder, we have had quite a good deal of inquiry concerning the mode of letting the contract for the construction of bridges recently constructed and the cost of same. We have made some inquiry and searched the records to some extent but have not yet been able to satisfy our own mind about the matter, hence of course we cannot inform the public just yet, but hope to be able to soon. If any reader can give us this little bit of information we would be very much pleased to have them do so.

THE Democratic committee was called to meet here Monday, but only three out of town members were present. The utter hopelessness of the struggle is perfectly apparent to the rank and file of the party, and this accounts for the absence of almost the entire committee. After a consultation with himself, Judge Miller unanimously agree to open campaign headquarters at some place with somebody on the lid at some future time. The Judge then made a short talk to himself in which he patted his inordinate vanity on the head and assured himself that he is "It" with a capital I. The judge then adjourned. The three committeemen then homeward plod their weary way and left the world to darkness and the Judge. Funny business, wasn't it?

THE recent naval victory of the Japanese forces over that of the Russians presents quite an interesting phase, indeed to Russia it perhaps reduces matters to an alarming phase. If Japan is enabled to finally dictate terms of peace, which now seems probable, Russia will be compelled to surrender her only port on the Pacific coast that can be entered during the winter season of the year. Vladivostok would have to be handed over to the Japs and Russia would be left without an outlet on the Pacific. Russia has planned and schemed for many years for an opening on the Pacific, free from icebergs and began the war in the hope that she would be enabled to retain Port Arthur, an outlet which is accessible during the entire year, but this has long since passed from her and if she should be compelled to yield Vladivostok she would be left in a hopeless condition so far as her great desire and important necessity, an eastern outlet, is concerned. It is a great stake that Russia is playing for and defeat at last means total loss of an opening on the Pacific—an immeasurable loss.

THE TIE THAT BINDS

Your Life with Your Practical Every-Day Way of Living

Is the knowledge that you hold within the grasp of your pocket book, the where-with-al to furnish your homes tastefully, and with a degree of simple eloquence, and to dress yourself, your wife and children as they should be. We are doing a safe and sane business and no "Frenzied financial statements" emanate from our store for we do not ask the public to take our word, as we extend to each and everyone a most cordial invitation to visit us, inspect our goods, compare our prices with our competitors, and let us show you how easily we can furnish your homes, dress you in the latest patterns, and feed you with the best the market affords. However small your purse may be, with our low prices, our large assortments we cannot fail to interest you. We are now displaying one of the largest stocks of Dress Goods, Notions, Clothing, Shoes, Hosiery, Drugs, Carpets and Mattings ever offered. One visit will suffice to show you the wisdom of our words and we assure you before hand an agreeable surprise at the amount of goods you can buy from us with a little money. We are one price to all, first come first served, and all receiving the same courteous attention. We have established a reasonable living price on our goods, and we invite you one and all to come and be convinced, for seeing is believing, and remember each penny spent for goods with high prices is a useless waste of money. We can handle all the Hay, Corn, Wool and country produce we can get and will pay you as high a price for your goods as anyone.

Dress Goods and Notions.

We have spared no expense to bring our departments up to a standard where they could pass an examination of the most critical buyer. You will find that we can gladden the heart of the most fastidious, and show you goods that will please both young and old. Our prices are low, our lines complete, so make us a visit and let us save you money.

Clothing and Shoes.

First impressions are the most lasting, so why not let us fit you in one of our Suits, and let it be a favorable one. We can show you the cheapest, the best and the most desirable patterns in Clothes to be found in Ohio county. Our line of Shoes is complete in every particular, as we are showing Blacks, Tans, Oxfords, Patent Leather, both in High and Low-Cuts. Our prices cannot be beat, and for men youths and children a visit to our Clothing and Shoe Departments will prove to you that we carry the latest patterns with price to suit all.

Drugs.

Our Drugs are new and fresh, complete in every detail, and are presided over by a pharmacist with thirty (30) years experience. Each and every prescription is carefully compounded, with no substitution. Patent Medicines, Toilet Articles, Perfumes, Paints and Oils, in fact, everything which tends to make a Drug Department complete, will be found in our line of goods.

Groceries.

Our Grocery Department is now nearing completion from a thorough overhauling and enlargement and we will offer to the public the most complete line of eatables the market affords.

Other Lines, Etc.

In Hosiery, Carpets, Lace Curtains, Umbrellas and Parasols you will find we are abreast with the times and demands, and your attention is called to the fact that our prices are always the best, our goods the latest and newest and consequently your satisfaction will be the greater by trading with us. To our friends and patrons a continuance of your patronage is solicited and to those who have not visited our store we most cordially invite you to make a visit for we feel sure that we can interest you in both prices and goods.

Yours for Trade,

Clarence Fields was seriously injured last Friday morning at Iberta, La., while attempting to board a train on the Southern Pacific R. R. His left foot was caught between a wheel and the rail and mashed so badly that it was necessary to amputate it just below the ankle bone. He was taken to the railroad hospital at Franklin, La., and at last accounts was getting along well. His father, Henry Fields left Friday for Franklin having been summoned by telegraph.

Lyman Williams is seriously ill of appendicitis at the home of his father Mr. G. B. Williams here. He arrived from Louisville Saturday where he has for the past several months held a position with the Third National Bank and was apparently in the best of health. He was taken with a severe attack of this dreadful disease Tuesday and suffered intensely until Wednesday afternoon when it was seen by attending physicians that an operation was the only hope of saving his life and at about 3:30 o'clock it was performed by Drs. E. W. Ford and J. W. Taylor. They found that the appendix had already ruptured which caused very serious complications. He rallied quickly from the effects of the operation but his condition is yet critical.

HOLIDAYS ON SATURDAYS.

All our public holidays should be celebrated on Saturdays. The following day being Sunday, the weekly public holiday of rest, religion and recreation makes the holiday preceding it the more useful and enjoyable and does not break into the following business week, as Monday holidays do, to the disadvantage of labor and business alike.

On this plan we would have our holidays as follows:

Celebration of New Year, first Saturday in January; McKinley, last Saturday in January; Lincoln, second Saturday in February; Washington, last Saturday in February; Memorial day, last Saturday in May; Independence, first Saturday in July; Presidents, second Saturday in August; Labor day, first Saturday in September; election day, first Saturday in November; Thanksgiving, last Saturday in November; Christmas, last Saturday in December.

This plan would be a boon to labor, manufacturing and business interests and, I believe, a great systematic advantage to all. — H. W. Foote in New York Times.

One Phase of French Character.

Money is earned with such difficulty by the Parisian working people and existence is such a struggle that they clutch at their sous with deadly tenacity. When some years ago the Opera Comique blazed amid a scene awful as that of a battlefield the women attendants thought of their tips, the half franc due here and there for a footstool. Unmindful of their own peril and that of others, they rushed to and fro, besieging half suffocated, half demented creatures for their money. A similar scene happened during the terrible catastrophe on the Paris underground railway. Although the delay of a few seconds might mean life or death, many workmen refused to move from the crowded station, clamoring for the return of the forfeited ticket.

The Fighting in Tibet.

Most of the serious encounters were like mediaeval street fighting and took place in narrow passages and chambers of old jongs and monasteries. The expedition surely afforded the two strangest types of engagement in modern times—the taking of the Gyantse monastery, when "bands of desperate swordsmen were found in knots under trapdoors and behind sharp turnings," and our troops fought in "a perfect warren of dark cells and rooms," and the second fight on the Karola, when the Ghoorkas performed feats of rock climbing which would have done credit to any Alpine club, and had a scrimmage in a cave at an altitude of 19,000 feet. — London Spectator.

James H. Hyde's Language Fad.

James H. Hyde of the Equitable Life Assurance society goes to greater lengths than is generally known in his effort to spread the French language in America. French long has been the customary medium of conversation between himself and his intimates, but he carries his fad into the wider circle of his business. Not only does he address his private secretaries, of whom he has two, in French, but even where his correspondence is with persons who speak English only he dictates his letters in French, and it is necessary for the secretary to translate them before he can transcribe and forward them to those to whom they are addressed. — New York Press.

The Moon's Craters.

From recent photographs the craters and craterlets of the moon are estimated to number more than 200,000, but less than 1,000,000. White patches in some craters and the bright lines, radiating in some cases hundreds of miles, are thought by Professor Pickering to be due to snow, and the less conspicuous lunar canals, which gradually appear, increase and fade away in the lunar day, are attributed by the same authority to vegetation. A thin atmosphere of carbonic acid and water vapor may feed the plants.

Wisconsin Wolf Story.

By dropping matches and igniting the hair on the back of one of a pack of six timber wolves that had treed him Hans Peterson, a farmer residing six miles from Coon Valley, Wis., near here, drove the beasts away and escaped. He was nearly frozen. The wolves were the only ones seen in this vicinity for several years. — Lacrosse Cor. Milwaukee Sentinel.

School For Dueling.

A school for dueling has been established in Paris under the management of Dr. de Villers. The pupils, dressed in long black blouses and wearing masks, stand up at thirty paces apart and fire at each other with dueling pistols, loaded with wax pellets coated with felt. The object of the school is to accustom men to the preparations for a duel.

A CHEF'S EASY JOB.

King Edward's cook, M. Menager, is a native of the south of France. He is about forty years of age and draws a salary of £1,600 a year. M. Menager has nothing to do with the royal breakfast. He arrives at the palace at 11 o'clock in the morning, when one of the officials hands him the menu for the day. He then orders what is needed and superintends the cooking of the luncheon, after which he is free until 6 in the evening. At that hour he begins to prepare the king's dinner, and, unlike most other famous cooks, he is helped only by women in the kitchen.

When the dinner is served, M. Menager makes up his accounts for the day and then returns to his home. — London Globe.

The Great Auk's Eggs.

The record price for an empty eggshell was £330 and 15 shillings, paid on June 20, 1900, for the egg of the great auk, of which the last known living example was destroyed in 1844. There are about eighty great auk's eggs known, and these command fancy prices. In the thirties an egg might be bought for 2 francs, but in 1882 a single egg sold for £110. The price still went up. In 1894 one was sold for 175 guineas and in 1895 another for 165 guineas, while in 1899 a specimen realized 500 guineas.

The length of the egg sold in 1900 is five and a quarter inches, and its greatest width is a little over three inches.

Museum of Peace and War.

A strange museum has been founded at Lucerne. It is entitled the Museum of Peace and War and is intended as a complete history of war from the earliest times. The contents are warlike arms of all ages and nations, books, prints representing the horrors of war in their most realistic aspect and everything that can throw a candid light upon a grim subject. The founder of the museum is M. Jean de Bloch, a wealthy Pole who is philanthropic and perhaps a little eccentric, and he has chosen Lucerne for the site as being the place most likely to attract the largest number of cosmopolitan visitors.

The Locomotive as a Coal Eater.

The total coal production of the United States is now at the rate of 1,000,000 tons per day, and the consumption of coal by railroads is equal to 40 per cent of this, or 400,000 tons per day. The fuel bill of a railroad contributes about 10 per cent of the total expense of operation and 90 to 40 per cent of the total cost of running the locomotives. A locomotive will consume on an average $5,000 worth of coal per annum, and for a road having an equipment of 1,000 locomotives the coal bill is approximately $5,000,000. — Railway Age.

Ice Globes in Lake Michigan.

Along the water's edge for miles on the north shore are countless curiously formed pieces of ice. They have attracted attention since soon after freezing weather set in.

The pieces of ice were rolled so continuously by the waves that they became almost perfect spheres. They resemble enormous pebbles, some of them more than two feet in diameter. To hundreds of students the ice balls have served to show the manner in which pebbles are formed by the action of water. — Chicago News.

John Morley on Golf.

Mr. John Morley addressed a meeting of his constituents in Montrose the other night, and at the close a "heckler" rose and said:

"I wish to ask the right honorable gentleman an important question."

The audience was all attention.

"I wish to ask Mr. Morley why he does not play golf." Mr. Morley, however, was equal to the occasion. "Golf!" he exclaimed. "Oh, I don't think I'm old enough to begin that yet!" — Dundee People's Friend.

More Folks For North Carolina.

There is need in North Carolina of more folks.

This state has a population of only thirty-nine people to the square mile, and the average value of its land is only $7 an acre. Ohio has a population of 102 to the square mile, and the average value of its land is $34 an acre. Indiana has a population of seventy to the square mile, and the average value of its land is over $30 an acre. — Charlotte News and Observer.

The Other Way Round.

The inventor of a Chicago machine for making dimples—heaven save the mark—says incidentally that it is a muscular weakness that causes dimples. We don't know about that, but keen observers will be ready to agree that dimples, deftly manipulated, frequently make strong men weak. — Boston Globe.

CONDENSED STORIES.

Strange Meeting of Two Former Governors of South Carolina.

Ex-Governor Hugh S. Thompson of South Carolina, who died a few days ago, was fond of telling an incident in which he figured as illustrative of the ups and downs of politics and life, says the New York Times.

A few years ago he was asked by the Gridiron club to make an address at one of the famous banquets. Shortly before the time for his speech arrived the head waiter approached him, saying, "Governor, is there anything I can get you?"

"GOVERNOR, DO YOU REMEMBER ME?"

"A small cigar," answered the distinguished speaker.

Proffering a box and receiving a coin for the service, the waiter said:

"Governor, do you remember me?"

"No," replied Mr. Thompson, looking at the negro keenly.

"Like yourself," said the waiter simply, "I am an ex-governor of South Carolina."

And then Governor Thompson recalled Richard L. Gileaves, provisional governor of the state.

Merit Elsewhere.

Frederick Law Olmsted, who holds the chair of landscape architecture at Harvard, visited Philadelphia recently to make an address on the subject of city parks.

During his visit Mr. Olmsted dined at a Walnut street club, and he cited during dinner a certain elevated tract on the Biltmore estate, of which he is landscape gardener.

"That tract," he said, "would be beautiful for some purposes, hideous for others. Everything is like that—good for some things, bad for some things. Thus, if we use our minds, we can utilize nearly everything, we can put nearly everything to some good use."

"All kinds has their merits," as an old Georgia colored man once said.

"Some one had asked this colored man what breed of chickens was the best."

"All kinds has their merits," he replied. "De white ones is de easiest found, and de dahk ones is de easiest hid after you gits 'em."

Sheedy's Consolation.

Harry Corbett of San Francisco tells how Pat Sheedy once consoled a disconsolate sporting man.

"I will never forget my introduction to Pat Sheedy," says Corbett. "I was down at Coney Island several years ago playing the races. We were chatting together when a fellow came up whom Sheedy knew, and he bemoaned his hard luck. He started in to tell how he was beaten by a whisker for a big bet. Sheedy listened to his tale of woe and then, slapping him on the back, said: 'Never mind, Jack. Cheer up! It all breaks even in this world—the rich get ice in the summer and the poor in the winter.' I'll never forget this remark of Sheedy's as long as I live."

The Darky Explained.

At one of the registration places in Alabama, according to The Bar, Congressman Bankhead stood listening to the election officers testing a colored man's qualifications for exercising the right of suffrage. The negro was unusually intelligent, and one of the officials said quietly to the congressman: "That's a very smart darky. He has answered every question correctly."

"Ask him to explain a writ of certiorari," suggested Mr. Bankhead.

This was done, and the negro, after scratching his head, said: "Deed, boss, I reckon you done got me. I doan know what dat is, 'less'n it's somethin' to keep a nigger from votin'."

Willing to Exhibit.

First Fox—If circumstances permitted I should like to make an exhibit at a poultry show.

Second Fox—Indeed! What would you exhibit?

First Fox—My appetite. — New York Press.

Her Observation.

"Bliggins thinks he is a man of great importance."

MODERN MIRACLE.

Thunderbolt Directed by Divine Agency Saves Mother's Life.

[Chicago Cor. New York Herald.]

A thunderbolt directed by Divine agency is believed by members of the Second Presbyterian Church of Evanston to be responsible for the recovery of Mrs. Warren S. Williams, a young society matron who is suffering with typhoid fever complicated blood with poisoning.

"It was God Himself, moved by our prayers, who hurled His lightning on earth to save our child," says Mrs. James Calligan, mother of the young woman.

"There is no doubt in my mind," said the physician, Dr. F. W. Kaufmann, "that the electric fluid worked the change that sent Mrs. Williams on the highroad to recovery."

It was on March 20 that a baby girl came to the Williams family. The mother, who is scarcely 20 years old, was left in a precarious condition, typhoid fever attacking her a fortnight later, and blood poisoning then getting in, making the case one that worried three of the best physicians in the country.

Hovering us almost on the brink of the grave, it chanced that on the night of May 11 a violent thunderstorm began. In the little house at No. 1315 Main street lay the young wife, terrified and ill. Lightning struck the chimney and traveled to the room in which the young mother lay. In a moment the room was afire, but Mr. Williams ran in snatched his wife from the bed and hurried with her to a neighbor's, a nurse carrying the baby.

"Under ordinary circumstances," said Dr. Kaufmann, the young woman would have suffered a relapse from the fright and shock but from that very moment she began to improve, and will probably be well in a week or so.

"The mysterious properties of the X-ray and the new metal, radium efficacious in some cases, leaves no doubt in my mind that the flash of lightning which filled the room had some strange effect."

NOTICE.

Orders Ohio County Court. Regular term May 1st, 1905. Pres. Hon. J. P. Miller Judge.

S. L. Fulkerson and others petition for local option election.

This cause coming on to be heard and it appearing that at the regular April term of court, April 3, 1905, the petition of S. L. Fulkerson and fifty-one others was duly filed and it appearing further that said petition was duly signed by legal voters of the town of Rockport greater in number than 25 per cent. of the legal votes cast in said town at the last general election, and that the town of Rockport is a city of the sixth class and that said petitioners have this day deposited with the judge of this court the sum of $60.00 which is sufficient to defray the expenses of the election to be held in said town and it appearing that said petitioners have complied with all the requirements of the law, it is now ordered and adjudged that an election be held in the said town of Rockport, Ohio county, Ky., on the 10th

READ THIS

Louisville, Ky., June 13, 1901.
Dr. E. W. Hall, St. Louis, Mo.—Dear Sir: I have suffered three years from kidney and bladder troubles, and one-half bottle of Texas Wonder Hall's Discovery, has cured me, and I can cheerfully recommend it.

Yours very respectfully,
J. N. ROBERTS, 1819 Maple St.

A TEXAS WONDER

One small bottle of Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, cures all kidney and bladder troubles, removes gravel, cures diabetes, seminal emission, weak and lame backs, rheumatism and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in both men and women. Regulates bladder trouble in children. If not sold by your druggist, will be sent by mail on receipt of $1.00. One small bottle is two month's treatment, and seldom fails to cure any of the above mentioned. Sold by all druggists. Dr. E. W. Hall, sole manufacturer, P. O. box 629, office, 2931 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.

day of June, 1905, for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal voters of said town upon the proposition whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered or loaned in the city of Rockport, or whether or not the law now in force in said city allowing the sale of spirituous, vinous and malt liquors shall become inoperative in said city or town of Rockport; and the clerk of this court is directed to duly prepare ballots and poll books for each voting precinct in which any part of said town is located and deliver same to the proper officer and the Sheriff of Ohio county, is directed to open poll in each said voting place upon said date for the purpose of holding said election and is directed to advertise said election for at least two weeks prior to the date same is to be held in some newspaper published in Ohio county, and having a general circulation therein, and he will also advertise the same by printed as written hand-bills posted at five conspicuous places in said town for the same length of time.

It is further adjudged that a special registration be held for the said town of Rockport on Saturday, the 3rd day of June, 1905, for the purpose of registering all legal voters, who did not register before November election and the regular election officers will conduct said registration as required by laws and this cause is continued.

A copy attests:

M. S. RAGLAND, Clerk,
By U. G. RAGLAND, D. C.

Pursuant to the foregoing order and judgment of the Ohio County Court, I will on Saturday, June 10, 1905, cause a poll to be opened as and in the manner required by law at each and all the voting places in the town of Rockport, Ohio county, Kentucky, to take the senses of the legal voters of said town qualified to vote for county officers, upon the proposition "Whether of not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold bartered, loaned or trafficked in, in the said town of Rockport, Ohio county, Kentucky?" Given under my hand as Sheriff of Ohio county, Kentucky, this 25th day of May, 1905. CAL P. KEOWN, S. O. C.

Quality vs. Quantity.

Hard muscles and strong body do not depend on the quantity of food you eat, but on its perfect digestion, and proper assimilation. When you take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure your system gets all the nourishment out of all the food you eat. It digests what you eat regardless of the condition of the stomach and conveys the nutrient properties to the blood and tissues. This builds up and strengthens the entire system, overcomes and cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia Belching, Sour Stomach, etc. Sold by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

No Pain.

Casey—I seen in the paper the other day that a doctor out West performed a surgical operation on himself 'an' cut off his own thumb. What'd ye think o' that?
Cassidy—Oh, I suppose he put himself 'under th' influence of ether before he done it.

The Children's Favorite.
For Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc., One Minute Cough Cure is the children's favorite. This is because it contains no opiate, is perfectly harmless, tastes good and cures. Sold by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

STRONG Again

is what Mrs. Lucy Stovall, of Tilton, Ga., said after taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Hundreds of other weak women are being restored to perfect health by this remedy. YOU may be well if you will take it. Indigestion causes nearly all the sickness that women have. It deprives the system of nourishment and the delicate organs peculiar to women suffer—weakness, and become diseased.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that may be eaten. It nourishes the body, and rebuilds the weak organs, restoring health and strength. Kodol cures indigestion, constipation, dyspepsia, sour risings, belching, heartburn and all stomach disorders.

FRIDAY, JUNE 2.

A GRAND TRIUMPH.

Was The Second Street Fair
For Hartford.

Large and Appreciative Crowd Attended—Fine Stock Showed in all Stock Rings.

The Street Fair held here last Friday and Saturday was indeed a triumphant success, in fact it is common talk that when Hartford undertakes an enterprise it is synonymous to success. Not a few of those present have spoken approval and commendation of the splendid way in which the Fair was conducted and of the means of social intercourse afforded to attendants. Friday morning early the people began coming to town, and by noon the streets and alleys were full, the Court House yard was full, all the stores were full and on Saturday morning by 8 o'clock more people were in town than were here on Friday and it was clearly seen by the management that the crowd was going to be a record-breaker. The crowd on Saturday numbered between 4,000 and 5,000 people, and the best of feeling prevailed throughout the day. There was no drunkenness or street fights. The stock exhibited was the finest, the ladies were the prettiest and the men were the handsomest, ever seen in Hartford. The Fair was gotten up and managed by S. A. Anderson, who was ably assisted by the executive committee composed of Harrison Austin, David Moreland, W. M. Addington, R. J. Duff and J. B. Mitchell. Practically every ring filled, and everybody seemed to be satisfied, whether they were successful in winning or not. The successful entries were as follows:

No. 1.—Best white layer cake, by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro., one gilt clock, $10.00, Mrs. P. A. Moxley, 1st premium; Mrs. Ella Autmire, 2nd premium, clock, $2.50.
No. 2.—Best pair mules, by Carson & Co., one sewing machine, $25.00, C. R. Campbell.
No. 3.—Largest family, by First National Bank, Grove Taylor, with 13 children, $25.00.
No. 4.—Best pair of farm horses, by Sanderfur & Co., in groceries, Mrs. Amanda Phillips, $5.00.

TWENTY-FOURTH ANNUAL

Commencement of Hartford College,
June 12th, 13th, 14th
and 15th.

On Tuesday evening, June 12th, will be given a literary entertainment, consisting of orations and essays by the members of the class in literature.
The program will be interspersed with excellent music to rest and delight the audience. The orations are short and well written, full of thought, and will be well delivered, therefore a literary and musical treat is assured. Do not miss it.
On Wednesday evening a musical will be given by Miss Carrie Werner and her class. The successful musicals given by Miss Werner and her classes in the past bespeak as much for this one. Everybody should attend.
Thursday evening the Alumni Association will hold its annual reunion. An excellent program has been arranged with the view not only to entertain an audience, but to renew the tie that binds the members of the Association to each other and to their alma mater. All graduates and old students are earnestly requested to be present. The speakers for this occasion are the teachers and graduates of former years.
The closing feature of commencement week will be the Graduating Exercises on Friday evening. The program will consist of music, orations by the graduates, and an address by Rev. Frank M. Thomas, of Owensboro. Rev. Thomas is a brilliant orator who never fails to charm and to please an audience. Do not fail to hear him.

A SPLENDID PLAY.

McHenry Local Talent Made a Big Hit in Production of a
"Womans Honor."

The McHenry Amateur Dramatic Company composed of the following prominent McHenry people, viz: Messrs S. J. Tichenor, Hywell Jones, Will W. Duncan, L. E. Herrel, Jas. Penman, R. D. Burton, Misses Ethel Tharpe, Annie Duncan, and Bertie Robinson, held the boards at Taylors Opera House here last Friday night in the production of the thrilling Drama entitled "a Woman's Honor" one of the largest crowds ever assembled at the hall witnessed this splendid play with approbation and pleasure. The play was indeed theatrical, grand beyond anticipation and played with the skill and effect of trained and experienced theatrical actors and performers.

High class specialties were given at frequent intervals Dr. J. S. Smith and Penman rendering important Numbers, in fact Dr. Smith proved to be a whole show within himself. The encomium on Hartford set to music and sang by the Doctor brought forth tremendous applause.

The McHenry Orchestra led by Miss Annie May Smith, furnished Music for the occasion, which was in every sense a treat to lovers of high class music.

Welcome again seemed to be the sentiment of all present.

For the benefit of those not present we publish below Dr. Smith's original verses:

OLD WATER MILL.

Soon will forty years have past,
Since many of us were boys;
My first time in old Hartford,
Then my heart was full of joys;
Many old land-marks have gone
And yet there's some here still,
To that sweet place of final rest,
And so has that Old Water Mill.

CHORUS.

Hark!
I hear those rustling echoes yet,
Of that Old Water Mill.

Friends please do excuse me
When I undertake to say
No better friends I ever had,
Than lived in those good days,
When I look into your faces,
I can see resemblance still,
Of many that knew those days,
At that Old Water Mill.

Hartford has one old land-mark
That's hailed with many joys,
Our memory turns back, my friends,
When we were girls and boys,
You have had it here for many years,
And I hope you will have it still,
It is that grand old College School—
Going to that Old Water Mill.

NEW HARTFORD PIKE.

I was born in Pennsylvania,
Partly raised in Old Kentucky,
And Ohio county, it has been my home;
I was here before those railroads,
And your telephone and bike,
And the latest fad,
Is that New Hartford Pike.

Everything was good and plain
When I came to Kentucky
And made this county that I love, my home.
I was here before that ice plant,
Or your electric light and bike;
And we did not have good roads,
Nor no new Pike.

I am glad to see these changes
In this old state of Kentucky,
And I am proud to see improvements in our home.
We will accept your ice plant,
And your electric light and bike,
And all enterprises, good roads
And more new Pikes.

I may perhaps, for aught I know,
Live always in Kentucky,
And make this county that I love, my home.
Why not let us have an electric line
From old Hartford to McHenry;
We then will have the 'phone,
Line, Bike and Pike.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

Can You Discover the Names of the Ten Hidden Boys?

Ten boys were talking together at recess. Their names are hidden in the following sentences, which are scraps of their conversation overheard. Thus in the first sentence you can find the name of the boy who said it by joining the last two letters of the word "hero" to the first letter of the next word, making Roy. In this way each boy tells his own name without intending it.

First.—"What a hero you are to walk four miles to school!"

Second.—"Did you hear little Brown laugh out in the spelling class?"

Third.—"Do it if you will. I am willing."

Fourth.—"He said he'd win if he died trying."

Fifth.—"You can rage or get pleased, just as you like."

Sixth.—"I feed my hen rye and corn."

Seventh.—"He says natural philosophy is the same as physics."

Eighth.—"A robin makes a bigger nest than that."

Ninth.—"I spilled coal oil on it. Will the odor ever get out?"

Tenth.—"Now alter it to suit yourself."

Here are the rest of the names. Find them: 2. Earl. 3. William. 4. Edwin. 5. George. 6. Henry. 7. Ralph. 8. Ernest. 9. Theodore. 10. Walter.

The Dog's Compass.

A friend writes us an interesting account of a dog brought from Plymouth, Mass., to Cambridge, Mass., some forty miles. He was kept tied up two days, then untied and started for his old home in Plymouth, where he arrived safely. This is one of thousands of similar cases, in some of which the dog has traveled hundreds of miles.

We remember one in which the dog traveled up the Mississippi river from New Orleans to a north-western state.

What sort of compass dogs carry has never yet been ascertained.—Our Dumb Animals.

A Snow Suggestion.

The next time the snow drifts into your yard instead of making a snow man try making a snow pig. An oblong mass of snow forms the body, and the legs, nose and ears are made of sticks surrounded by snow. A bit of rope nicely curled will make a very good tail. Various pigs can be shaped and carved according to the skill of the young artist and will give a lively and social appearance to your yard and cause the neighbors a great deal of amusement—at your expense, perhaps.
